Eagles Down Atherton; Lose To St. X. 60-44

By John Lamer

Eastern's basket-happy Eagles repulsed a "revived" Atherton team at Maconic Home Friday by a score of 60-44. After about half of the second period was history, the game was all Eastern's. Atherton had been a steady hitting team all season and had hopes of stopping the county champs, but their dreams were short-lived.

The Rebels drew first blood but the Eagles kept right even and at the first quarter ended, they led 12-9. Early in the second period, the Eagles pulled ahead on a quick press, but Atherton's Butch "Crazy" Parley made the game close 22-20 at 3:00 and Eastern called time out. Returning to the game, the Middletown team put on the full court press and were leading at halftime, 22-22.

Eastern opened up at the beginning of the third stanza and stretched the lead to 32-24. The Eagle's Charley Long found the range and in only four minutes won the third quarter by pouring 10 points through the net. Parley stopped the final quarter with a 30-38 advantage.

Parley's one-handed jump shots credited him with 11 field goals and 25 points overall. Close behind him with 22 points, also in 11 field goals, was Eastern's C. King registered in double figures for the victors by tallying 15 points.

Eastern scored on 26 of 47 tries from the field for a remarkable 55 per cent average. Player-views percentage was 72. Eastern hit on 11 of 16 shots or 69 per cent. Atherton connected at an impressive 45 per cent on 20 of 44 tries.

Upset Hopes Fall
The Eagles, hoping for an upset of a powerful western region team, almost turned the trick but found St. Xavier's ability too strong.

The Tigers' margin was Eastern six game winning streak, 60-44. St. X., showing that it is definitely one of the top teams in the state, averaged an Eastern defeat of last year when the Eagles knocked them out of the western region crown. Eastern's final and won the state tournament ticket.

Xavier must meet Central in the 25th district playoffs and if they win, could very well meet the Eagles in the same situation that occurred a year before.

Faced by Charley Long, who tabbed 23 points, Eastern kept the Tigers from scoring in three periods and then found St. X. ready for one of their keynote attacks, the all court press. St. X. led 12-10 the first quarter, 22-21 at the half, and 35-30 at the end of the third quarter.

Here, coach Bill Brown selected the press but the Tigers were prepared and outscored the visitors 25-14 by the time the final buzzer sounded. St. X. produced a balanced scoring team that saw three players score in double figures. Eddie Schumacher, Larry Duddy and Jim McDonald each had 12.

The Tigers now post a 23-3 record to Eastern's 18-8. Eastern has only one more regular season game before they meet Butler in the first round of district tournament play. This game is with Frankfort, February 28, at Maconic Home. Frankfort poses a real threat with a 6-7 center and four more regulars all over six feet.

It is highly possible that Eastern's Dickie Poloff will return to action by tournament time. Dickie broke his wrist in a game with Butler earlier in the season but he has been practicing with the team in the afternoon with his cast on and looks like the lay-off hasn't affected him.

Hog Prices May Show A Decline In 2-3 Months

Hog prices in the next two or three months may decline "moderately" from present favorable price levels, the Kentucky Agricultural Experiment Station economists department said this week in its bi-weekly outlook letter.

This is due partly to an expected increase in hog marketing, says Bud Lanpher, economist, Farmington, La., and September, when the usual sharp seasonal increase in demand for the cornbelt may be holding hogs to feed up high moisture corn. Bad weather may have held up recent marketing and cattle slaughter is expected to increase in the next two months, all of which would have a weakening effect on hog prices.

If hog price weakness does develop in the next two months, Lanpher said, there likely will be a rising price situation in late spring which will reach a peak in early summer.

This summer peak prices probably will be short of prices registered in the next two months. That's because current December-farmers — which would go to market this summer are an estimated up 10 per cent.

Favorable hog prices since late October, 1957, from $1.80 to $2.10 higher than the same period a year earlier — may lead to further gains in the March-July, 1958 period which are 10 to 15 per cent above the 1957 figure for the same period. This, said Lanpher, would be due to two factors.

Number of hogs farrowed in the April-July 1957 period was apparently much below previous estimates.

2. Extremely favorable corn-hog ratios since October, 1957, probably have encouraged more sow breeding. The corn-hog ratio has run above 20 to 1 in some areas and as high as 18 to 1 in Kentucky, despite much higher corn prices in the state.

Bids calling for construction of music and shop buildings at Faldale Junior High School and Pleasure Ridge Park High Schools were approved Monday by the Jefferson County Board of Education. The total cost will be $110,000.

The low bids included Faldale music, $38,726; Faldale shop, $44,845; Pleasure Ridge music, $46,857, and Pleasure Ridge shop, $49,597. They are to be completed by next September.

Tempo At Frankfort In High Gear Last Week

By Scott Miller, Jr.
Jefferson County Senator

The tempo in Frankfort picked up considerably last week in both branches of the Legislature. We got off to a flying start, extending the session to March 10. This was felt to be a better system for serving the public.

Then we got three of the Louisville, or Jefferson County, bills as they are usually called up, dealing with drainage, sewers and parks. I made an effort to amend the drainage bill because I thought one feature of it was bad, and I campaigned on a promise to try to stop it.

This was defeated, however, the only people voting with me being the Republicans. Later all three of the bills were passed, so now I don't think there is any reason why we can't have good drainage, sewers and a park system in the county. These were passed finally by the Senate Thursday afternoon.

The Committee on Labor and Industry of which I am a member, took up quite a study of a bill regarding the work commission and rest periods for women. After many hours' work by the entire committee, we brought out what we thought was a good bill, submitted it to the floor, and passed it on Thursday.

We also passed a tobacco research bill which would find other uses than smoking for tobacco and probably assure Kentucky some more prosperity in the tobacco field. We also passed the so-called "Compromise or Agreed Bill" on unemployment insurance known as House Bill 119 and we voted, although I think it might be a mistake, that we should not have introduced it at Elizabethtown. We

Future Of 't'own Depot Building Still In Doubt

Future of the Jeffersontown railroad depot remained in doubt Thursday following a discussion between Mayor Ira G. White, Jr., and railroad officials.

Mayor White said he talked with J. P. Mumford, Louisville superintendent of the Southern Railway, and Robert A. Wharton, Louisville trainmaster, Wednesday night and made an inspection of the area in the vicinity of the depot.

Nothing definite was worked out, White said, explaining that they are still at the "talking stage." All are concerned White said, about the safety angle in the event the building is transformed into a library building. Some safety features would have to be installed, the trio agreed.

The railroad officials, however, agreed to sell the building to the city for $15 if the city would move it. This is, of course, contingent on the abandonment of the depot.

White said that he had received no word from the railroad officials as to whether they plan to close the building, scheduled for next Wednesday, Mumford and Wharton said they had received none.

White said he learned from the officials Wednesday night that the railroad officials are appearing from that in some other states regarding a railroad's plans to drop service at depots.

At the time of the depot, the railroad plans to close the depot, the railroad plans to drop service at depots. At the time of the depot, the railroad plans to close the depot, the railroad plans to drop service at depots.

4-H Club Members To Be Honored March 1-8

Kentucky and the nation did the hat week of March 1-8, 1958 to that outstanding collection of youngsters — the 4-H Club organization.

That week the nation's adult citizens will salute these youngsters. There are 2,200,000 in the nation and some 73,018 in Kentucky.

They'll be recognized during the celebratory week for their work in agricultural projects principally, but these are projects which are aimed at developing their heart, hands and health, with emphasis on future leadership.

Service clubs, religious organizations, business and school groups will devote part of their weekly activities toward recognition of the accomplishments of the clubs.

This year the youngsters themselves will salute the parents and adults who act as volunteer leaders for the thousands of clubs sponsored throughout rural and urban areas — that the youngsters raise each year sell for thousands of dollars and the total acreage of the state is a large part of the state total arable acreage.

The celebration week will be called "Salute to Parents," with emphasis on the farming, home-making and community service volunteer leaders and their youthful club members.

Eight Persons Made Homeless By Blaze

The charred ruins of their eight-room frame home on Greenwood Road, a quarter of a mile east of Sylvania Road, met the eyes of the Dallas Williams family as they returned from a visit to Owensboro last Sunday afternoon.

As a result, Williams, his wife and their six children, ranging from 2 to 14 years, lost everything except the clothes they had on their backs, the father said.

The fire was discovered early in the morning by neighbor, Ernest Bohler, child of the Pleasant Ridge Volunteer Fire Company 1 and 2, said the blaze apparently started under a stove, but was unable to determine the cause. He estimated the loss at $7,000.

Williams, who said the house was uninsured, was laid off from a construction job in Indiana about two weeks ago. He is a carpenter.

WILL THE DAY OF DISCIPLINE RETURN?

Judging from what is appearing today in the grass roots press across the country, both in the news columns and on the editorial pages, America is waking up to the seriousness of the blatant disregard for constituted authority, particularly among younger people. As the crime volume builds up among young adults, the searchlight is being turned on the school-age groups.

Thus the search for responsibility approaches the home, and parental authority, clear and distinct. There the trend toward lesser disciplinary action has been growing for several decades.

As we read from the weekly and daily press from across the country, the community newspapers particularly, we are beginning to find accounts of more and more backward glances for examples of stricter measures to apply to present day problems. For not only did parents loosen up on discipline in the home but, going farther, they demanded the privilege of "freer expression" for their children in school.

"The punks causing trouble either have to grow up or get out—now." Thus reads the ultimatum of the president of the Pleasant Hill, Mo., school board. And he is being hailed by Editor H. G. Hutcheson of the Augusta (Kan.) Gazette as a hero—"man of 'intimidating' fortitude."

Writes Editor Hutcheson: "The new rules were laid down after one teacher took second place in an encounter with a hooligan group, resulting in some $300 damage to a classroom. A mass meeting with parents of the 280 students in the school was called where they were told they would have to pay for the damage... and that we are going to have respectful conduct in the school simply by booting out those that do not comply."

Then there is related a list of must-nots, such as we haven't heard for a long time by which regulatory measures the school is to be run henceforth. Commenting, our fellow editor of the west declares, "All in all, these may sound like drastic measures, but they have been brought on by a few young punks dragging their collective feet, and we will wait our last bucks that discipline improves in Pleasant Hill High School, along with the elevation of educational standards."

All over the country, in big cities and in small towns, this matter of disregard for the privilege of peaceful existence and the property rights of others (even those in whose hands rests governing authority) has been practiced as a disabler of the day, almost. Why then should we not halt this new authoritative note from the West, whose spontaneous action on behalf of just causes has been traditionally known?

Look then to the West, from all other points of the compass. And we shall watch with interest the results to come from this "reactionary" forward movement toward better citizenship.

TIME TO LEAVE OFF — A CHALLENGE

Some people are saying that the country is in a depression, others say it is a mere adjustment of the nation's economy. Should it prove to be a real depression, it would be one of unusual setting. A depression in the midst of a situation where prices are high, and going higher, is really something to make a person gasp for breath.

"Two simple facts," says U. S. News & World Report, "give you a clue to what has been happening in American industry."

"Fact one is that output of goods in factories for each man-hour of work has risen only a trifle more than one per cent in the two years since 1955."

"Fact two is that hourly pay of factory workers has in that same period gone up a bit more than 10 per cent."

What then, in the light of these two facts, is contributing most to inflation? It's a buyers' market that we have now. What has created it?

Our sympathy to the poor salesman.

There is something else that seems to be almost a paradox. It's the fact that the record shows the American people are saving more than ever. Given a little time, maybe, that should do something toward forcing prices down.

Meanwhile, will labor be willing to cooperate? Everything points to the need for leveling off. Will the truth be accepted?

MR. LINCOLN SAID —

On February 12 many school children took time to recall some of the great deeds and statements of the great Abraham Lincoln and to celebrate his birthday. No doubt many adults will recall something of the great Civil War president. Had he lived many people believe the South would have fared better following the great war between the States.

Below are two quotes attributed to Lincoln that we feel is most pertinent to present conditions. He is reported to have said:

"You cannot lift the wage-earner by pulling down the wage-payer."

"You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves."

The above two very wise statements are as applicable today as they were when Lincoln spoke them nearly a century ago. As so the statements below concerning man and the community in which he lives:

"I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives; and so live that the place will be proud of him."

Well said Mr. Lincoln. — Whitteville (N.C.) News Reporter.

Walter Lippmann writes: "Our schools and colleges are overwhelmed by the growth of the population they are supposed to educate, and they are under enormous pressure to do the most part irremediably to lower their intellectual standards. There is an ominous tendency in American education to teach more and more students less and less of the great disciplines which form an educated man."

WITH THE P.T.A.'s

COUNTY COUNCIL

The Jefferson County Council will meet at the Y.W.C.A. Second and Broadway, Wednesday, March 5, at 8 p.m. The program will be a "Youth Speaks Panel on Safety," according to Mrs. James L. Smith, publicity chairman.

DURETT Parents were much the wiser after attending the P.T.A. meeting at Sallie Phillips' Durrett High auditorium Thursday night, February 20. A panel discussion on "What is Your Question about Durrett?" proved an interesting and enlightening part of the program.

Mr. James C. Bruce, principal, was the recipient of a life membership in the state P.T.A. Presentation was made by Mrs. L. T. Patterson, president of Durrett P.T.A.

An impressive Founder's Day skit was presented. The evening ended with a silver tea. — Mrs. Walter F. Mayer, publicity chairman.

A Founder's Day program and tea were highlights of the February meeting of the John J. Audubon P.T.A. The program, skit entitled "A Look into the Future," was enacted by members, Mrs. Charles Kremer, Mrs. Donald Fletcher, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. F. Brown, Mrs. Garret, Mrs. Robert Murphy and Mrs. William Edens.

The skit was in the form of a brief session of the future at which the beavers complained of many things from the present, too many teachers and too many classrooms. Mrs. M. B. Abuchon, program chairman, closed the program by stating the hope that the complaints of too much of the good things in our school system might not be repeated.

Mrs. Lin Caulfield, past president, and Mrs. Ernie Young, a member of the faculty, were presented with life memberships in the state P.T.A. Past Presidents Mrs. Caulfield and Mrs. Raymond Jones were also with corsages. Publically chairman.

Those winter evenings may tempt you to spend more time than usual in front of the television screen. To get full enjoyment from this great entertainment medium, a few words of warning are in order.

Some programs are so exciting they keep you staring at your chair in fascination. After a long evening of viewing you may find your mind and unconscious. Take a look at how you sit. Do you curl up in a ball and stare?

As for children, experts agree that long sessions in front of the set should not take the place of active play. TV is fine for an occasional quiet hour, but must not crowd out activities for normal growth and development.

You can't watch your eyes watching TV, but you can tire them if you don't watch properly. Most people by now are well aware that the bright TV screen should not be watched in a dark room. Soft, indirect light is best.

Don't watch from an angle that distorts the picture. Place the set so it's directly in front of the place of active play. TV is fine for an occasional quiet hour, but must not crowd out activities for normal growth and development.

One in Christ

Lesson for March 2, 1958

WE HEAR the preacher saying things we feel sure he ought to say, but some of the time all we can do is credit him with good intentions. What he is actually saying, or what he means by what he says, may seem dim to us. The words are clear enough, but what do they mean?

A high example of this is the expression "One in Christ." We have heard it in sermons, maybe we have read it somewhere. Oh, to be sure, it is in the New Testament, is it not?

Dr. Foreman
The words glimmer vaguely in our minds: "They in us . . . I in them . . . that they may become perfectly one." "We are to grow up in every way into him who is the head, even Christ." No doubt a mystical soul would gather the meaning here at first sight. But the simple words seem to point to something beyond experience, something almost frightening to that great majority of us who are not mystics and not inclined that way.

Not in Loud Language

Is there some simple meaning for us plain people? Is the expression "One in Christ" anything but an emotional slogan? The great Church Universal, the Ecumenical Church, that greatest of all Protestant church movements today, expressing itself in the World Council and the conferences at Madrid and Amsterdam and Lund and Evanston and Oberlin, has used often that phrase, "One in Christ." The Oberlin Conference, made up of 279 representatives from 39 American Christian bodies, last September sent a Message to the Churches, wherein they spoke of unity, and the very first thing the message says about it is that it is a "unity in Christ who died for us." What exactly does this mean — "Unity in Christ"? It certainly does not mean that we Christians are made one by loud language about Christ. All churches sing hymns sounding much alike. Watch any large gathering of Christians from all denominations singing "All hail the power of Jesus' name." Most of them can sing it without the book. But singing all together, even in perfect tune, is not being "one in Christ." Even using and memorizing the same creed is not unity in Christ.

One in Loyalty
There are two simple, plain meanings of "one in Christ." The first is oneness in loyalty. This again is not a matter of words. Most of the married couples in America have "plighted their troth" in much the same words. Very impressive words, too: "For richer, for poorer, for better or worse . . . till death do us part." But anybody can plainly see that while all wives and husbands have promised to love and to cherish each other, they don't all do it. Married loyalty is a far deeper thing than saying fine eloquent words. Girls make this mistake time and time again: they give their heart to the young man with the smoothest line. You would think any girl would have better sense; but not all of them do. Loyalty in a public official means more than taking the oath of office. It is living up to it. Loyalty in a soldier is more than signing up for the recruiting officer; it is standing and not running away when the fighting is hot. Loyalty to Christ is more than signing up for him. It is standing by him and fighting even when the danger runs high. Wherever people are loyal to him, there is unity in him.

One in Likeness
Some one wrote a book called "The Galilean Accent." The idea of that book, it was said, was that all Christians can be told by their "Galilean accent," they sound like Jesus. Of course the writer meant something deeper than that. Christians who grow in the knowledge of Jesus come to think like him. They come to be like him. There is a family resemblance among Christians everywhere. Just as people who belong to the same fraternity tend to resemble one another; just as employees of the same corporation sometimes come to form a type of their own, so even more, and far more, do those who belong to the brotherhood of Christ and do his work come to resemble one another because they are in truth his brothers. But it is not automatic! Only with the loyalty will there be much likeness.

SEEK YE FIRST THE KINGDOM

"No Other Gods"

THOU shalt have no other Gods before me," Exodus 20:3. God said it and God meant every word of it...three friends tell another. The trio of church workers know the imperious need of the personable young man is a love for God and the Church. "Other Gods" have snatched his interests and dominate his life. The way we go and the road we travel make a difference. We are commanded to keep the Sabbath and honor father and mother. We must not murder, hate, lust, steal nor covet. We are commanded to worship the Lord our God, and the church is a wonderful place for that. When God's commandments become our commandments and God's way becomes our way... we'll have "No other Gods before Him."

BUY-NOTES on FOOD From Extension Service, Kentucky College of Agriculture and Home Economics

Are you looking for a good protein food that is economical, nutritious and tasty? You can find it at your nearest grocery in the dairy case. It's cottage cheese. It is plentiful, is available the year 'round, and fluctuates little if any, price-wise. At the Lenten season and later, during the spring months, cottage cheese gets much attention in menu. Cottage cheese is a concentration of protein or curd portion of milk. One half cup of cottage cheese supplies about an equal amount of protein as does a four-ounce serving of lean meat.

Unlike many other cheeses, cottage cheese is a soft, unripened or uncurd cheese, and is made commercially from pasteurized skim milk. It can be made at home if the family has extra milk on hand. Like other fresh dairy products, cottage cheese requires refrigeration. It should be used within three days while the flavor and moist delicate texture are at peak.

Usually there are two forms of cottage cheese found on the market. Dry curd which has the four per cent butterfat, and has a dry texture, and creamed, which contains more than four per cent butterfat, and is moist in texture. Both are available in many sizes.

Camp Taylor News
By Mrs. James Shaw

The Sallie Phillips Durrett High School held their P.T.A. meet Thursday night, February 20. There was a Founders Day program, honoring the founders of this organization 61 years ago.

A mother, Mrs. Alice McCallan Birney, and a kindergarten teacher, Mrs. Phoebe Apperson Herd, thought the parents and teachers should work together for the good of the child and this organization came into being. This should be brought to our attention every February.

They had a little play lighting candles as they told of the home, school, church and community. The Rev. J. J. Borders, of Farmdale Baptist Church, spoke of the church, Mrs. K. M. McCutchen told of the home, Mrs. Mable Dunn told of the school and Mr. Everett Hancock of the community. Mrs. Frank Dyche wore a banner for the "Spirit of the P.T.A." and Mrs. K. P. McElwain one for the "Spirit of Founders Day." All this reminded me that our children should "grow in wisdom and stature and in favor with God and man."

Mrs. L. T. Patterson, president, presented Mr. James C. Bruce, principal, a life membership to the P.T.A. He was so grateful to the P.T.A. it is priceless, something he had always wanted, something he could not buy for yourself.

Officers for next year are president, Mrs. James Smith; vice president, Mrs. James Borders; secretary, Mrs. Mable Dunn; treasurer, Mrs. William Lynch; recording secretary, Mrs. Robert Owen, and corresponding secretary, Mrs. C. L. Purcell.

Mrs. Bruce announced "it you want a real meal home the J.V. basketball boys by coming to their banquet at 6 o'clock, Tuesday, March 11, sponsored by the Booster Club. Questions were answered about the school by a panel and much information was given.

A World Day of Prayer service was held at Fourth Presbyterian Church, 2016 Preston Highway, attended by church goers from Camp Taylor and Audubon areas. Mrs. Ray Hodges, of the Church of God, was the program chairman. Mrs. J. A. Cascada, of Audubon Methodist, was co-chairman. A nice program and was well attended.

A Frances Willard tea of the W.C.T.U. was held at the home of Mrs. Mary McGraw, Gardiner.

Club members had decided to combine this regular meeting with a birthday celebration in March at the home of Mrs. W. E. Irwin, 4400 S. Cousins' Kitchen, Shelbyville Road.

This, however, will be held March 11 in order that the club may serve luncheon at the same time as the Mrs. W. E. Irwin Beverly March 4. Mrs. Beverly is a member of the club. — Mrs. Paul L. Kelley, publicity chairman.

SEATONVILLE

BUECHEL

The next meeting of the Buchel Homemakers Club will be held at the home of Mrs. George Hartmann, 2015 Manchester Road.

ROUTE

The Route Homemakers Club met with the present, Mrs. Lee Baskett, Fisherville, February 12. Mrs. Haskett Edgington had charge of the meeting. Mrs. Arch Boston gave a report on her work at Lexington for Farm and Home Week. Her report was most interesting and made us all wish we had been the lucky ones who went. After a delicious lunch we had a white elephant sale.

Mrs. Archie Tennill gave an informative lesson on landscaping. The point stressed was to study our own situations and not plant our trees and shrubs any old way. We should put them where they show off best now and will continue to do so for years. If it had not been for the snow I believe we would have all gone home and moved every tree in our yards.

The meeting adjourned to meet at the club house for the March meeting. Mrs. William C. Blankenbaker, publicity chairman.

Ringling with Good News!

For good news, just dial SOUTH! You'll get a ringing report of bustling cities, busy new industries, a revitalized agriculture—all adding up to unprecedented progress and prosperity.

And strides in communications to match! Southern Bell alone is spending over a million dollars every working day to expand telephone service in the growing South. Dixie leads the nation in number of telephones added in rural areas.

We're glad to have a hand in the South's forward march, for we know what the telephone means to it all.
